Built in 2014, this contemporary home revolves around outdoor living. A zigzag-like swimming pool snakes around the two-story house, practically dissolving into the ocean located just steps from the landscaped lawn. The pool is positioned next to multiple lanais so that residents can take a dip after dining or lounging outside. Inside, the 9,500-square-foot dwelling features six bedrooms and 8.5 bathrooms. Sliding glass doors and large windows showcase stunning ocean views and nightly sunsets. With an asking price of $15.9 million, this home guarantees a slice of the good life.
